THE WYNWOOD STORY

What do David and Victoria "Posh Spice" Beckham, soccer god Lionel Messi, supermodel Karlie Kloss and international musical and fashion icon Pharrell Williams all have in common? Their love for Wynwood of course, the creative, eclectic heart of steamy Miami! But it's not just for the A-listers and jetsetters, it's the neighborhood every tourist wants to check out and locals flock to.

Wynwood is a diverse district that is home to art galleries, unique retail stores, eclectic bars, artisanal eateries, and new places to live and work. The neighborhood now boasts the largest collection of street art in the world, from murals to next-wave graffiti, covering nearly every wall and surface of buildings throughout the district.

Throughout the mid-to-late 1900s, Wynwood was an enclave for Caribbean immigrants and home to Miami's Garment District. Following a decade of economic decline, in the early 2000s, forward-thinking developers and property owners rehabilitated neglected warehouses and other buildings, transforming them into the innovative businesses and cultural anchors that they are today.
